

4.12.21

Good morning,

We hope that all of our LBUSD families had a healthy and relaxing spring break. We have a lot to look forward to as we head into the fourth quarter of this unprecedented school year! Parent University continues this week with our Thursday afternoon workshops. This week is dedicated to the Class of 2021,

Seniors: Final Steps in College Preparation and Planning

Join college/career counselor, Sylvia Womack, as she presents the final steps seniors must take to secure their post-secondary plans at LBCC or other community colleges and 4-year universities.

Thursday, April 15th

4:00-5:00p.m.

Additionally, all parents are invited to Save the Date for the Local Control Accountability Plan, Community Forum on Saturday, April 24th, from 10:00a.m. to 12:30p.m. The Forum is a collaboration between community stakeholders and Long Beach Unified School District. This event is designed to foster partnerships and communication between families, LBUSD leaders, and staff to ensure students' needs are being met as we transition from pandemic schooling, focusing on Academic Supports, Social-Emotional Learning, and Student and Parent Engagement.

Parents will:

- Understand efforts and progress of stakeholder input in the LCAP
- Contribute to the development of LBUSD's 2021-2022 spending plan
- Learn strategies to support student success
